SUPPORT AN2019!

Support for AN2019 can be in the form of outright gifts or grants or in the form of sponsorships of particular parts of the program (starting page 2). Grants can be made through the University of Washington or Curtin University (Perth, Australia), while donations and sponsorships can be made through a foundation at the University of Washington (tax deductible for US organizations), Curtin University (tax deductible for Australian businesses), or through the Aquatic Noise Trust, a certified charity in Scotland that is directed at support for this and similar meetings. If you are interested in funding or sponsorship, please contact one of the meeting organizers.

We have several sponsorship levels (page 2) that are reached by selecting one or more items from the specific list of items starting on page 3. The additional recognition given to each sponsorship level (beyond the recognition in the specific item(s) selected) is listed below the sponsorship level.

This is followed on page 3 with specific items that may be selected for sponsoring for those organizations wishing to focus on support of something specific and not provide support at the sponsorship levels on page 2.

Please note that the sponsorships for the meeting will be directed at helping us support the attendance of students, early career researchers, colleagues from Third World countries, and others who could not otherwise afford to attend the meeting.

The Organizers

Christine Erbe <C.Erbe@curtin.edu.au>

Tony Hawkins <a.hawkins@btconnect.com>

Paul Lepper <P.A.Lepper@lboro.ac.uk>

Arthur Popper <apopper@umd.edu>

Joseph Sisneros <sisneros@u.washington.edu>

Frank Thomsen <frth@dhigroup.com>

For each level of sponsorship, select one or more of the specific items starting on page 3 that add up to, or exceed, the level of sponsorship. For those not wanting to sponsor at the levels listed here, it is still possible to select, and get recognition for, the items starting on page 3.
